

RULES

- the judges are always right, your argument is invalid
- not our problem
- make it weird
- don't disappoint the judges
- team name, item number, present your item

by competing in our contest, you are solely liable for any: death, dismemberment, unlawful activity, catching fire, crimes against humanity, eternal damnation, or making poor decisions (or any resulting consequences)

HOW TO PLAY

The DEFCON Scavenger Hunt is like a treasure hunt, it is a unique contest that encourages players to interact with all of Defcon.

Upon registering a team of 1 to 5 total players, your team shall bring us or perform as many items on this list as possible. Each item has a point value associated with it; however, bonus points are available to submissions that are better than average. To earn credit you must visit the Scavenger Hunt table and submit your items. If it is not possible to bring an item to the table, proof is required in the form of pictures and/or video.

People's names are prefixed with an '&' character, you must find them.

We will stop taking submissions at 12:00 on Sunday.

We would very much appreciate it if you sent any pictures and/or video taken while playing our game to scavlist@gmail.com.
